

X-Stitch Newsletter

Here's the cross-stitch news!

What are you stitching now?

Something fun..

or is it something you dread picking up. Stitch something that you love and you'll always look forward to doing it and you'll make time for it each day! Stitching something for loved ones adds another layer of "making time for your project" because it's a gift for someone else. Make it a Christmas project or something for birthday gifts so you can give yourself a timeline!
